

Seven Simple Ways to Promote Restorative Justice (RJ) from Melanie G. Snyder, author of:

- * READ the Pew reports “One in 100” and “One in 31” at <http://www.pewcenteronthestates.org>
- * LEARN more about RJ and victim-offender mediation at <http://melaniegsnyder.com/books#RJ>
- * TALK with your legislators about using restorative justice and effective alternatives to incarceration
- * PRAY for those affected by crime: victims and their families, offenders and their families, and communities
- * DONATE or VOLUNTEER for local programs for victims, offenders, released prisoners or their families
- * WRITE or send cards to inmates through PrayerMates & Christmas Cards programs: www.centrepeace.org
- * VISIT someone who has been affected by crime (victims, offenders, or the families of either) to offer a listening ear and compassion – chances are there’s someone in your own neighborhood, workplace, church, or school
